Savannah, Georgia

Rooms with a View The chic new Avia hotel overlooks the recently refurbished Ellis Square, once home to Savannah's city market.

Unique Wedding Site Hold a bloom-filled wedding and reception for up to 100 guests in the parterre of the Owens-Thomas House, an English Regency-style mansion that was completed in 1819.

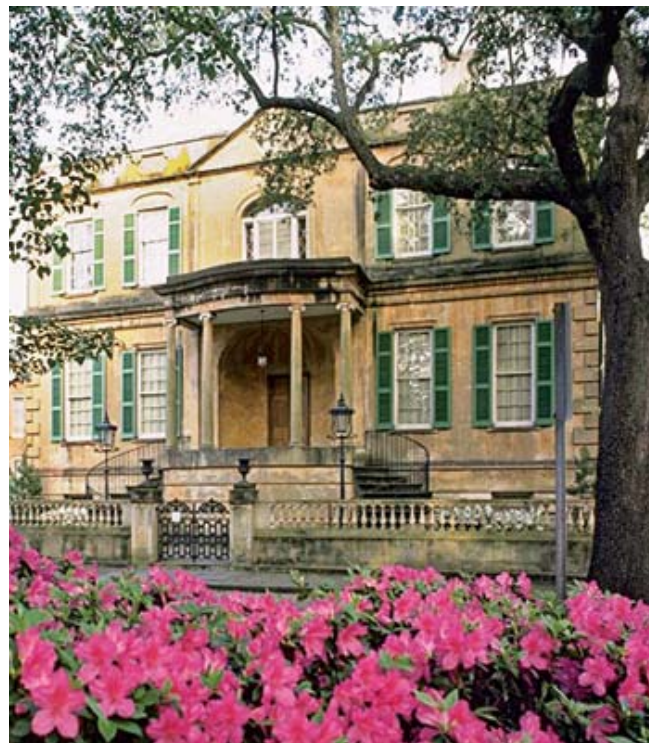

Delicious Dining The Old South lives on at the Olde Pink House, built in 1771 and home to the city's best southern cooking, from she-crab soup to shrimp 'n' grits.

Let Your Hair Down Take in a ribald drag cabaret show, then hit the dance floor at the multilevel Club One, made famous in the book Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil.

Great Group Activity With more spooks per square mile than just about any city in America, Savannah is ready-made for after-dark ghost and ghouls tours. There are more than 30 to choose from!

Take-Home Treats Stock up on relish, barbecue sauce and other savorys made from Georgia's own Vidalia onions. Got a sweet tooth? Bring home some pecan pralines.
